REACH lands at the Correctional Training Center!

Staff at the Correctional Training Center in Galt participated in "Take our Daughters and Sons to Work Day" on April 28, 2016.

Registration included: signing in, receiving identification cards, t-shirts that Lieutenant Sherrin (A) created and donated and eating a delicious breakfast. Culinary staff impressed the children with pancakes topped with strawberries, blueberries and whipped cream; also available were scrambled eggs, hash browns, fresh fruits, muffins, milk, juice and water.

During registration, the children had an opportunity to guess how many candies were in a jar. Captain Lowe introduced himself to the crowd and welcomed the children. J. Kotko, the event organizer, gathered the chaperons and explained how the groups will be rotated throughout the activities.

At the start of the activities, parents and children walked to plant operations for a showcase of law enforcement vehicles. Galt Police Department had two vehicles and staff who took photos with the children and passed out coloring books.

The correctional sergeants gave tours of the prisoner transport bus; many of the children got in the cages and sat in the seats on the bus. The firefighters from Consumes Fire Department opened the doors and showed the children their tools. The younger age group was very fascinated and asked a lot of questions. The firefighters were happy to answer all the children's questions. Two correctional K9s performed several of the tasks they have been trained for, one of which was searching for a contraband among packages. The officers let the children take photos and interact with the dogs.

Next was the multi-purpose room for an experience with the expandable baton. Lieutenant Sherrin demonstrated the use of expandable baton and had the children follow along and then allowed them the opportunity to use a baton to fend off an assailant; a sergeant who was dressed in protective gear.

REACH helicopter, which is an air ambulance landed on the track. The helicopter crew consists of one pilot and two medical staff. They had a question and answer session and then allowed the children in the helicopter. A group photo was taken with the helicopter crew.

On to lunch! The culinary staff served cheeseburgers, French fries, pigs in a blanket, ants on the log, Jell-O, salads, cake pops, juice and soda. After the children and parents enjoyed their delightful meals, they took the children for 'cell' searches. Two correctional sergeants led the children and parents into the cell demonstration area and let the children know there was candy hidden. Each child was able to bring home two bags of candies.

Next up was an obstacle course in the Multi-Purpose Room and then on to play in the jump houses. The younger children enjoyed the jump houses and obstacle course so much, they didn't want to leave for the Tactical Simulation (Tac-Sim) games. Tac-Sim was the last activity scheduled and the correctional sergeants provided Firearms Safety handouts.

CPOST staff was honored to be a part of the event and enjoyed the event immensely. CPOST wants to personally thank J. Kotko for organizing an amazing and fun-filled day for our children.
